

Resume

Kaleb McMullen

Summerville, SC, 29486. 763-248-9497

kalebmcmullen@outlook.com

Driven and creative student worker with a proven track record at Miami University, where I led the student film department for the Myaamia Tribe center, culminating in the creation of a significant documentary. Skilled in film production and team coordination, I excel in transforming concepts into impactful visual stories, demonstrating exceptional camera operation and collaborative abilities.

Accomplishments

- Received the Menard Fellowship Scholarship my Junior Year on account of my documentary work
- Won the Audience Award for two short films in my Junior and Senior Year
- Directed, produced, and edited a number of short films throughout my college career.
- Produced a short film with a team of 23 other students, which was awarded best student film in the Chicago Indie Film Awards
- Vice President of NASA (Native American Student Association) at Miami University
- Producer in the Student Capstone film Production course, where I coordinated transportation, food, and anything else needed for 25 members of the crew, and 20 members of the cast. During this time I also managed all of our locations, and ended up keeping our production 25% under our original budget.

Skills

- Film Production
- Script Creation
- Post Production Editing
- Lighting
- Schedule Management for groups of people
- Camera Operation
- Storyboarding
- Adobe Premier
- Wood Working

Work History

Student Worker at the Myaamia Tribe Center

- Worked in a team environment to maintain high levels of productivity.
- Took and followed detailed directions from others.
- Headed the film department for the Myaamia Tribe center, creating educational videos from conception to a finalized product.
- Assisted in the creation of a documentary over the summer of 2024, filming and editing over 60hours of footage between two summer camps.
- Event photographer, videographer, and editor.

Student Tribal Representative for the Myaamia Tribe and the Smithsonian Folklife Festival

- Worked with a small team to learn tribal identity and culture
- Exhibited aspects of servant leadership, assisting in community events and learning opportunities
- Interacted with the general public at the Smithsonian Folklife Festival to provide information and learning opportunities about tribal identity, games, and history

Vice President of NASA (Native American Student Association) at Miami University

- Assisted in planning and organizing events for the student base
- Photographed and documented events for the students

Education

- Bachelor's Degree in Media and Communications with a specialization in Film Production and Advertising and Consumer Culture from Miami University, Oxford.